NETWORKING GROUPS

Career and Employment Services free professionally led employment networking groups help under employed and unemployed individuals connect with others and learn new tools and support necessary for finding new positions.

Woman's Employment Networking Group

Every Thursday from 3:00pm-4:30pm at Jewish Family Service

Group support to all women job seekers that provides the understanding, strength-building, and guidance needed to meet their employment goals. We connect women to JFS professional staff and each other to share meaningful and strategic networking sessions. Join the discussion on how to prepare, organize, and execute a successful search. Whether you are a woman returning to the work force, transitioning to a new job or career, or recent graduate, this group is for you! Contact Allison Harding at aharding@jfsdallas.org or (972) 437-9950 for more information.

50+ and Open Employment Networking Group

Every Monday from 3:00pm-4:30pm at Jewish Family Service

This group connects participants to address the challenge of "what do I do now?" as a job seeker with extensive employment history or for those who are just starting a new career. JFS professional counselors lead strategic discussions to help participants identify the most marketable skills, prepare and organize a successful job search and understand entrepreneurial opportunities. Contact Allison Harding at aharding@jfsdallas.org or (972) 437-9950 for more information.
